Buried within these walls lies a room that contains the key to unlock the secret magic of imagination and creativity known as the room of art. It is here that the impossible becomes possible, the imaginary becomes the reality, and fiction becomes fact. In this magical room you are only bound by how far your imagination and creativity will allow you to travel. The only requirement to gain entrance to this secret room is to join the guild of artists known as The Guild of Hephaestus. Once you’ve joined you will unlock a sorting hat full of new activities waiting for you that will open up a magical world of wonder that few students of Hogwarts have the chance to lay eyes on.
